Plaintiffs

v.

JUDGE EDMUND A. SARGUS
Magistrate Judge King

JOHN W. SHOEMAKER, et al.,

Defendants

ORDER

Glen W. Haynie, a state prisoner who claims membership in the plaintiff class and who alleges deficiencies in his 2003 parole revocation proceedings, has filed a pro se motion asking that this action be reopened, that counsel be "re-appointed" and that counsel be "allowed to submit class members issues and demands. . . ." Petition to Reopen on Breach of Settlement Terms by Defendants, ECF No. 418.

The plaintiff class is represented by the Ohio Public Defender and action in this case, if any, may proceed only through counsel. The pro se motion, ECF No. 418, is therefore ORDERED STRICKEN from the record. If he chooses to do so, Mr. Haynie remains free to pursue individual relief in separate litigation, although the Court expresses no opinion as to the availability or merits of any such claim.
